OLD TIMERS SET NEW RECORD AT REUNION

Unusual Success Marks Gathering Of Old Timers

Crowd Surpasses Anything Seen In Many Years Previous Reunions

DISTANT STATES WELL REPRESENTED

Old Time Dances, Songs And Reminiscences Make Day One Of Interest

From north and from south, from east and from west, former residents of Lawrence county, descendants of our pioneer residents, those who have brought the community to its present high standing, gathered at Cascade park Wednesday to make the 31st annual Old Timers' reunion the most outstanding in recent years.

From the oldest person present, John B. Rodgers, veteran of the Civil war, who is going on 95, down to the little Elsie Marian Eakin, aged three months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eakin of East Washington street, everyone enjoyed himself thoroughly, and all who attended were unanimous in their opinion that the reunion eclipsed all efforts of recent years.

While most of those present were from New Castle and points in Lawrence county, several far distant states could have mustered enough representatives to have had a small-sized reunion of their own. Thirteen different states were represented, and there were people there from as far off as Puerto Rico, Texas, Alabama, California, Nevada and Massachusetts.

York Welcomes Legionnaires As They Gather For Nineteenth Meeting

COMMANDER KRESS OPENS SESSION

(International News Service)

YORK, Pa., Aug. 19.—This one-time capital of the United States gave its official welcome to the 19th annual convention of the Pennsylvania department of the American Legion today.

Mayor Harry B. Anstine, of York, where rested the seat of Colonial government during Howe's occupation of Philadelphia, told the opening session of the three-day convention that the Legion program is a "summons to youth to save the world from the twin sources of Communism and Fascism."

Assume Responsibilities

"Continued lawlessness, sabotage and threats of violence, with or without the implied approval of the heads of government, imperil the welfare and even the life of the nation," he said in his welcoming address.

The York mayor rapped "those in public places" who have not "discouraged the spreading of lawlessness," and told Legion members to "assume your responsibility in regard to professional agitators who have been, in marked degree, responsible for this breakdown in law and order."

Walter J. Kress, Johnstown, state commander, presided at the session.

Former State Treasurer Samuel S. Lewis, York, president of the York County Agricultural Society, was among the speakers.

Roosevelt Quiet On Special Call

Tells Foes He "Has Just Begun To Fight" For New Deal Objectives

BACK IN WASHINGTON AFTER ROANOKE TRIP

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—Having assured political foes he had "just begun to fight" to attain New Deal objectives, President Roosevelt returned to Washington this morning to see congress through to its expected Saturday adjournment.

Call Problematical

The big question mark was possibility of a call for a special session later in the year because such pet White House measures as hour-wage legislation, crop control and governmental re-organization were being side-tracked in the rush of congress to call it a day.

Sources close to Mr. Roosevelt predicted that only a widespread demand for crop control legislation would impel the president to summon congress back in advance of the regular January session.

The president made it plain in his Roanoke Island speech, these sources point out, that he intended to press his program of improved conditions for the poorer classes—but they doubted that his disappointment over failure of hour-wage legislation at this session in itself would bring a special call.

Crop contrl has a preferred status on the January calendar by agreement of house and senate. The president's political advisers are

Weather Holds Up Search For Missing Fliers

For Four Straight Days Searchers Have Been Grounded By Bad Weather

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 19.—For the fourth straight day bad weather again today prevented planes from searching for Sigismund Levanevsky, Soviet Russia's No. 1 aviator, who has been missing since last Friday with five transpolar comrades.

Navy Board Opens Probe Of Blast Aboard Destroyer

Six Civilians And One Sailor Die In Explosion Aboard "Cassin"

SAILORS RISK LIVES TO SAVE COMRADES

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—The steam pipe explosion aboard the U. S. destroyer Cassin in the Philadelphia navy yard had exacted the lives of six civilian employes and one sailor.

The dead were Joseph Vissaluzia, 45; William Miehl, Michael Scavo, W. T. McCallum, Louis Sherby, all of Philadelphia; Daniel Vautier, Camden, N. J., and George L. Dreisbach, 30, Oaklyn, N. J. McCallum, Vautier and Sherby died in hospitals some hours after the blast.

Four of eight other men scalded or injured in the destroyer's fire room, Jerome Sullivan, Philadelphia; John Koif, Winona, N. J.; Thomas L. Athey, Hagerstown, Md., and Cornelius Minnehan, Watertown, Mass., were still in critical condition, hospital attaches reported. All four were reported to have only a slight chance for life.

Probe Started

Exact details of yesterdays' explosion will not be known until a board of officers can complete its investigation. All that could be learned was that a steam line burst during tests conducted while the Cassin was in drydock.

Sailors and yard workmen risked their lives to penetrate an inferno of scalding water and live steam to rescue their comrades. McCallum, one of the victims, gave his life to shut off the steam and to enable others to escape.

New Recipe For A 'Horse's Neck"

Any old bartender can mix up a horse's neck but the very newest recipe for one of them was found today at the semi-deluxe state liquor store on South Jefferson street.

The window was inviting with its stock of liquid headaches. Using what might be termed horse sense the animal thrust his head through the plate glass pane. A loud crash, a few minor cuts on the horse, a few bottles of liquor upset and there is your horse's neck.

Score Impressive Gains As Battle Increases In Fury

Chinese Thrust Threatens To Split Japanese Lines Near Waterfront

SHELLS REDUCE BEAUTIFUL AREA

American Consulate Warns Against Restriction Of River Traffic

By M. C. FORD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SHANGHAI, Aug. 19.—Embattled Shanghai was rocked by fierce new fighting today and the American-directed Southern Baptist Mission was struck by a bomb as numerically superior Chinese troops repulsed a Japanese offensive and scored impressive gains in the eastern district of the International Settlement.

The Chinese thrust, which threatened to split the Japanese lines in two, carried Nanking troops to within 500 yards of the waterfront. Dusk found the Chinese little more than a mile east and northeast of the strategic Garden bridge.

10,000 Japs

Ten thousand Japanese participated in the initial offensive which transformed all North Shanghai into a battlefield.

Consular officials today flatly rejected a Japanese proposal that river traffic between Shanghai and Woosung be restricted.

The United States consul stated emphatically in reply that river traffic must be left unhampered. A serious international incident was foreseen if the Japanese attempt to restrict it.

Japan's drive, while aviation and artillery of both sides kept up a deadly din in the west, was directed against the long, thin Chinese military lines linking Kiangwan and Woosung, along a seven-mile front.

For the first time in this conflict, regular army troops just transported from Japan were thrown into the heat of battle. Hitherto the brunt of the land struggle has been borne by marines and bluejackets.

Japanese reinforcements streamed ashore by hundreds from warships and transports anchored in the sweeping bend of the Whangpoo river, and other battalions moved

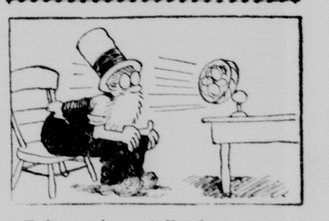
The school is situated on the waterfront off the Shanghai-Woosung road.

Arthur Mometer



Take a long tall glass, say of Lemonade, a rocking chair and a flock of shade, a cushion or two and no tie or shirt, just sit and rock or just sit, inert. Get a breezy fan and turn on the juice, take off your socks and your heavy shoes, and at your elbow a pail of ice, I ask you my friend is the prospect nice? For on days like these when the mercury shoves its nose way up past the ninety three, is no day to work or to dig and such, its a grand day to sit and do nothing much.

Word Pictures From Old Timers Album

In 1938 there'll be another "bigger and better" Old Timers' Day program, according to those who managed that successful celebration yesterday. "We've had cooperation in the past from committees, but never like we had this year," one of the reunion leaders said. "They wanted to make it a grand success and they did. They don't want the reunions discontinued."

While the mercury soared up and most men shed their coats early, the day wasn't such an uncomfortable one to George C. Hanna, one who came from Tyler, Texas, with his family to attend. Mr. Hanna is a brother of William R. Hanna, this city. Present also were Mrs. George Hanna and their children Alice and Frank, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hanna, who live at Abalene, Texas. The Hannas are brothers of Mrs. R. L. Boyd—and the entire family was there. "If you think this is hot, you ought to get a bit of our Texas weather," said the Tyler resident. "It gets hot down there"

Swarming the pavilion were old and young alike—more young folks, we believe, than ever before. The young took places on the sidelines to watch the older men and women enjoy their special day.

On future Old Timers' Days some of the youngsters who were out yesterday may be taking honors for reunion attendances, or something. Anyway, three-month-old Elsie Marian Eakin, who gurgled and slept in a nice comfortable buggy, would have a head start, we think, on most of the young ones. Little Elsie, rocked back and forth by her mother, just watched. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eakin, 1817 East Washington street.

Of course, there were many youngsters. Two others were Edward Hill, who'll be one year old in another month, and pretty Barbara Rodgers, 20 months of age. Edward's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Hill, R. F. D. 3, and Barbara's are Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery Rodgers of East New Castle.

That grand march at 2 in the afternoon is probably the most inspiring time of the day. To watch the old-timers and their ladies move down and around the dance floor thrills you. But there were some young marchers this year, the youngest being attractive Gladys Carlon from Baltimore. Gladys is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loyal D. Carlon and she's visiting here at the present time.

Someone mentioned electric fans. Well, next year electric fans will be operating, so one of the reunion officials said. This year a fan vendor reaped a harvest when he started selling them. Every lady bought.

John Richardson from Del Monte, Cal., mingled among the participants. He's here for a visit but is returning to the west about Labor Day. Another westerner and former New Castle resident, Watkins C. H. Matthews, was also there.

While it was blazing hot, the American Red Cross first aid tent, established alongside the park's administration building, reported no serious cases. Early in the afternoon young Billy Showalter, son of Chief of Detectives and Mrs. H. Ray Showalter, took sick and was removed to his Hazelcroft avenue home.

Something Mr. Sankey is proud of, and justifiably so, is the silver half-dollar which bears his likeness. It was coined by the government for the reunion of the blue and gray. Mr. Sankey posed at Pittsburgh for an artist who sketched the design.

The "oldest old-timer" present was probably John B. Rodgers, who makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. H. H. Stimple on Franklin avenue. He's 94 now, but November 17 will see him 95. He's in good health and seemed to relish the events of Wednesday. Around him were a younger group, his relatives and friends. One was Miss Eleanor Rodgers, his 18-year-old granddaughter, who said she had driven her grandfather recently to Rimersburg for a visit with relatives there. The trip covers 250 miles and "grandfather certainly enjoyed it."

White suits seemed to predominate. All the speakers who addressed the crowd at the start of the program wore them, and a lot of others

Calling the grand march were two Old Timers' Day leaders, Frank Robinson and Joseph T. Campbell. They directed the marchers.

Then James P. Sankey, another of Lawrence county's pioneers, was present, too. He'll be 91 next De-

CANNES INCIDENT 'EXPLAINED'

John Roosevelt Disclaims Wine Tossing Incident

Says It Must Have Been Somebody Else Socked The Mayor Of Cannes

CERTAIN IT WAS HIM SAYS MAYOR

By KENNETH T. DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Aug. 19.—All manner of high diplomatic pressure was brought to bear today to keep "Taffaire Roosevelt" from becoming a "cause celebre", but in spite of the best efforts of the United States embassy and the French foreign office, the battle of the flowers still raged between John Roosevelt and Mayor Pierre Nouveau of Cannes.

Never Saw Him.

A detailed alibi, all boiling down to the statement that he never had seen the mayor in his life, was presented by the youngest son of President Roosevelt.

But in Cannes, Mayor Nouveau cocked one eye at the foreign office and looked down his nose with the other at a champagne-stained suit, and said yes, indeed, it was Mr. Roosevelt who popped him over the head with a bouquet while a pal doused him with ice-water.

Back of the sudden silencer which was put on the "battle of the flowers" episode last night by the foreign office, it was understood, was the United States embassy, headed by veteran diplomat William C. Bullitt.

As a result, the foreign office spokesman (apparently much to M. Nouveau's surprise) blandly announced that "Mayor Nouveau . . . now believes he may have mistaken two other Americans for Mr. Roosevelt and his companion."

On With the Clamps.

Official dampners were sent around to French newspapers, which "played down" the story today.

Young Roosevelt called on Ambassador Bullitt yesterday and gave him a full explanation and denial, which was cabled to his father in Washington.

Indignantly, it was learned, John told friends:

"We did not halt in front of the reviewing stand during the battle of the flowers.

"The mayor never approached us during the whole evening. We did not throw champagne at him or anyone else, or slap anybody's face with flowers.

"It is all a complete misunderstanding, since M. Nouveau doesn't know me. It must have been somebody else."

Down in Cannes the much harassed mayor protested that he "wanted to forget it".

But, always there with a firm parting thrust, he repeated: "I regret to say I am certain it was Mr. Roosevelt."

exempted from conformity under the act. It held such a person was "one who is responsible for the managing of a business or a subdivision thereof and who directs or supervises and earns at least $25 a week."

Other interpretations and definitions of the meaning of the act included:

Emergency—A situation resulting from fire, flood, storm, epidemic or sickness, act of God, or other causes which require labor for longer than eight hours a day or 44 hours a week in order that life, property, health or the public service may be preserved.

Secretaries—Any person who renders services which are of a private and confidential nature and are a competent part of the work of the executive as defined under regulations of the department of labor and industry.

Spread of hours—The eight hours of work permitted by law shall be performed within ten consecutive hours.

Special For Canners.

The board adopted special regulations as to hours where they pertain to the canning industry. It stated: "For one period in the year, not to exceed 12 weeks, employes engaged in canning, drying or packing fruits and vegetables may be employed for not more than ten hours in any one day or more than 48 hours in any one week or more than six days in any seven.

Exceptions were granted in this particular industry because of its seasonal nature.

In rejecting the exception application of a Philadelphia beauty shop, the board held the art of barbering and beauty culture does not come within the scope of "learned professions", which are exempted under provisions of the act.

The board refused two other applications by wholesale fruit concerns on the grounds that employes in such businesses could not be classed as agricultural workers. The latter are exempted by the law.

Discover Ancient Skeleton Of Baby

(International News Service)

CHARLEROI, Pa.—The skeleton of a baby, believed to have been buried 15,000 years ago, has been discovered at Dunlevey, near here.

The skeleton was believed to be that of a mound-builders' child of a tribe antedating the American Indian by approximately 5,000 years.

An expedition led by George S. Fisher, of the Pennsylvania Indian Research Bureau, found the skeleton under a large flat stone in a field the tribe had used for a burial ground.

Fisher said the peculiar position of the skeleton indicated the body had been flexed. "Body flexing" was a ritual of mound-building tribes.

May Tour Country

This line of reasoning was no bar to the possibility Mr. Roosevelt might take a swing around the country in October and hammer home in person the philosophy he expounded yesterday from Roanoke Island in connection with the 350th anniversary celebration of Virginia Dare's birth.

The president denounced select interests for using a defense of the constitution as "a cloak to hide their real design" to obtain special privileges for themselves at the expense of the theory of government by majority.

"I seek no change in the form of American government," he said—but he charged that his opponents do. They "distrust majority rule because an enlightened majority will not tolerate the abuses which a privileged minority would seek to foist upon the people as a whole."

Outnumbered 5 To 1

Outnumbered by perhaps five to one, the Japanese relied on superior Mechanical equipment and arms to whip back the German-trained armies of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. Tanks spewing death clanked north and westward, artillery poured tons of steel and lead into the Chinese lines, and machine guns incessantly rattled their staccato dirge.

"Japanese forces making progress" was the crisp announcement issued by Japanese military headquarters at 12:30 p. m.

Once-beautiful park areas and peaceful farm lands were blasted by shells and furrowed by trenches; roads were ripped up, houses were set afire, and the important railroad loading northward from Kiangwan towards Nanking, over which Chinese reinforcements have been pouring, was threatened.

With deaths running into hundreds, the smaller Japanese force for days had been slowly yielding ground in the Chapei, Hongkew, and Yangtsepoo area of northern Shanghai. International authorities feared they would be driven straight back through the French concession, but Chinese leaders gave assurances that there would be no fighting within international areas.

Another Japanese infantry threat came from the west, where a column was attempting a wide flanking movement to strike at the Chinese rear.

For miles along the Whangpoo, Japanese warships shot shells into Chinese sections of the city, especially the Pootung quarter south of the stream, where 40,000 Chinese troops are harbored.

Planes Fill Sky

Shanghai's sky was filled again with bombing and battle airplanes, with the Japanese airmen again striving to cripple the city's essential services.

Every means of communication was attacked. Railroad lines and highways were bombed, and the Chenju wireless station, hit by bombs yesterday but still operating, was again raided.

A dozen high-explosive bombs were dropped around the electric works in the Chinese section of Chapei.

Another attack apparently had the American-directed Southern Baptist mission as its objective.

In spite of the continued force of the bombardment and the danger as large-scale land fighting got under way, Americans and other foreigners, thousands of whom have already been evacuated, showed signs today of recovering from their first fright.

Especially with the arrival of more American and British troops, there was a growing disposition to reman here and see the struggle through. Many Americans, as a result, cancelled the sailings they had booked for Saturday aboard the Dollar liner President Hoover.

Spread of the struggle all through north and central China was threatened today by a spokesman for the Japanese embassy unless the central government at Nanking comes speedily to terms.

The Shanghai conflict cannot be separated from the Sino-Japanese question as a whole, he said.

Admit Gains

"Settlement of the Shanghai conflict can no longer be regarded as a local issue," said the spokesman. "It must come through Nanking."

He admitted that Chinese infantry had advanced in northern China. Elsewhere, he said, the Japanese had held all their original positions, although greatly outnumbered by the Chinese.

Japanese airplanes flew far and wide for their bombing attacks. In Nanking's third raid, the arsenal was blown up, Japanese officials said.

Another attack was launched on the Kiangyin forts.

Dispatch of shiploads of refugees twice daily to Ningpo was approved today by the Japanese admiral in command.

Temperatures Soaring Today

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 19—Temperatures soaring toward the 90's today caused Pittsburghers to swelter for another day in an extended mid-summer heat wave.

The temperature yesterday reached 90 degrees. A thunderstorm failed to alleviate the discomfort.

Little change in temperature for today was forecast.

TEN HOT MILLS CLOSED BY FIRE

to the scene by an alarm from box 711 and after a hard battle city firemen extinguished the blaze.

While the loss was not great, it was an inconvenient fire, resulting in the closing of the 10 mills which were operated by the No. 3 engine.

Officials stated this morning that it was expected to have the damage repaired by the end of the week so that the mills could operate as per schedule next week.

THE TINDER BOX OF ASIA

EVERYONE firmly believed that the next World War would be set on fire in the Spanish arena, forgetting in their fervent espousal of causes that perhaps the martial pyromaniac might select another site for his conflagration. The scene now progresses to the East by quick and devious means. And do not ignore the possibility of international conflict with the militaristic gestures of the Japanese which they blandly term protective measures. There is no reason to minimize the seriousness of this situation. Without having actually declared a war, there is a war in the East. The forces of China are pitted against the short, squat troops of Japan. China is infinitely better off in its military program than it was in 1932. It has more troops and better equipment, but more than that, it is possessed of a fighting streak that will do the Japanese no good.

The fact that Japan has become a continental empire, stretching Nippon to the edge of the Soviet nation in Siberia is the danger line, and from this line we may expect the worst. China has the sympathy of Russia, who looks upon the Dragon country as a potential ally. Russia has a pact with France. France is bound with England. And Germany is allied to Japan. Figure out your results. Now we must consider the future plans of the United States. It still possesses the Philippine Islands. It has, of course, more than a passing interest in the Hawaiian Islands. It owns Guam, a stopping-off place of the Eastern air lines. It is, in short, definitely tied up with any developments that may occur in the East.

How are we to keep ourselves neutral and abstain from any warfare And what are we to do with our 1,000 United States Marines and our 3,000 nationals in Shanghai, where the tinder box is the hottest? More Americans have been killed, and our nationals may meet a sad fate. Will this influence Secretary Hull's foreign policy? Will he feel constrained to proclaim an emergency? Will he send off a sharp note to Tokio? Let us reason this thing out in the broad terms of international relations. We have a great interest in the trade of the East. Some of our best firms have invested large sums of money in China, and our relations with that country have been, on the whole, fairly respectable. But investments should not stand as a barrier to our foreign policy. We simply cannot afford to give any aid to a program that will set the whole world on fire. If we give encouragement we are lost; if we aid any power we are doomed to another participation in a mighty struggle.

There must be an elevation of the neutrality laws in our country. The spark may be set off at any moment. One false move by either Japan or Russia on the Siberian border will do the work. And we cannot afford under any circumstances to have anything to do with those madmen who would precipitate another Armageddon to satisfy a moot point in national honor.

CAUSE FOR JAPAN'S BOLDNESS

Execution of 72 Russians after a wreck on the Trans-Siberian Railroad is accompanied by the declaration they were paid by Japan to practice Sabotage. Much that is happening in Siberia is shrouded in mystery, but a total of 310 executions there in the last three months is highly ominous. It bespeaks a condition of which the Japanese were doubtless aware when they launched their new Chinese adventure.

A Japan unafraid of attack upon her troops by Russia on the Asiatic mainland is vastly more formidable to the Chinese. If, as suspected, there has been a widespread breakdown of Russian morale and a considerable part of Russia's huge standing army is disaffected, the military clique at Tokyo will know how to make capital of it at home. The stakes Japan is playing for in North China have been the dream of decades. With Russia at the moment out of the picture as a potential and powerful foe, those stakes can be made to seem to the Japanese people, poor and overcrowded, as almost within their grasp.

A carefully nourished belief that Japan is about to realize her "destiny" and become a great power on the mainland is a means for getting purse strings loosened. Vision of new and permanent prosperity through the acquisition of natural resources and control of Chinese markets in the five Northern provinces, at least, can be counted upon to make an already tax-burdened people submit to heavy additional taxes for its accomplishment. This is all the truer since there is little likelihood of interference by the League of Nations, or by those world powers which have important spheres of interest in China, at least so long as their interests are unassailed.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

BOY HAS TANTRUMS

"DEAR DR. MYERS:" Of a four-year-old, a mother writes from the west coast:

"He is a very affectionate child, but also has a quick temper and flies up in anger when he is denied some desire. We have, of course, made it a rule not to yield at such times, and he can usually be calmed down rather quickly or his attention diverted—but not until he has made some extravagant and impudent assertions. For instance, he is much interested in pounding nails right now, and I have limited him to thirty nails a day. The other day he wanted two more nails and I told him he had had all the nails he could have until the next day. Whereupon he threw the hammer up the steps and said, 'I will,too. I'll drive nails in your eyes—that's what I'll do!'

"I took his hammer, telling him that he was not old enough to have a hammer until he was old enough not to throw it, and when he continued to make all sorts of threats, I told him not to talk in such a silly manner . . .

Won't Outgrow Habit

"We are not worried about the present, but we do not want him to continue to speak disrespectfully and impudently when he is older. Is he likely to outgrow this habit, or will he become worse as he grows older if we do not check him now? The atmosphere of our home is congenial—there is no discord between parents, and I often say to him, 'In our family, we just do not say things like that to each other.' . . . What we want to know is this—should we deal more severely with him now, or should we hope that he will gradually outgrow this habit?"

Answer: At the present rate, the chances are against his outgrowing this habit, rather that the habit will grow worse. Whereas the patient method you describe usually seems to work, it has not in his case. Next time he turns upon you in rage with his tongue, feet or hands—no matter which—turn him instantly over your thigh, bare his bottom and give with your hand a series of lusty smacks on that lad's bottom he will remember. Merely to have removed the hammer was too slow procedure for him; so also might assignment to sit in a chair as punishment be too slow.

THAT CAT

I thought our cat didn't like me. He never came when I called. He'd never let me pick him up. If I caught him and held him on my lap he always was restless and in a few moments moved away. And when I came home at night that cat never came and rubbed against my legs and purred when I stroked him.

Not that cat. . . . He came when other members of the family called. He'd sit on the lap of one of the girls and delicately bite the tip of her nose to show his affection. And after others had gone to their rooms he'd sneak up stairs and try to sleep on their beds. . . . But never on mine.

I explained that he had a dislike of all men. Some intruder, a man, had probably kicked him when he was a kitten. So he had developed an aversion for men. So he probably had no personal feeling against me. It was merely my sex that was on his black list.

But the family went away and I was the only one at home with the cat. . . . I was the one that brought the liver home and opened it and put it before him. I was the one that poured the milk into his plate. I was the only human being around the place and he had to make the best of it. Alone all day around the yard he missed those other human beings and had no one but me.

So that cat has changed. He meets me at the front gate. He makes plaintive welcoming sounds and talks to me all the way along the path if I have any food for him. . . . And after he has eaten his liver and drunk his milk he comes in and rubs against my legs and jumps up beside me and purrs—and purrs—and purrs.

We are good friends and I am flattered by his attentions. I suspect that they will not last. I fear that he will desert me again when the family returns. When others are round the house all day, when someone else gives him his liver, I'll just be that man again and our summer friendship will be at an end. . . . But I ask him no questions. I have not tried to delve into the privacy of his feline emotions. I'm content that, for the present, whatever his reasons, our cat and I are friends.

By Francine Markel

DEAR MISS MARKEL—Recently, while returning from a distant city, I met on a train a man whom I know rather well. Although he offered to pay for my luncheon and tip my porter, I insisted on doing so myself. Did I make a mistake? JUNE.

Answer—No. You were perfectly correct. Since yours was a chance meeting, he should not have paid for any item of your traveling expenses.

Even when a girl accidentally meets a man in a street car, she should endeavor to pay her own fare, by saying, "Oh, I have my fare out," and then hand it to the conductor.

If, however, the man is a member of your family or your fiance, he would doubtless take exception to your independence. In such a case, you need not offer to pay for yourself.

DEAR MISS MARKEL — I would like to know if it is appropriate to wear a hat to an informal dance. MARY JANE.

Answer—If you wear dinner clothes, do not wear a hat. If you wear a street-length dress, wear a hat. Hats should always be worn with street clothes.

Dewey To Run With La Guardia.
Republican Ticket Is Just Name.
New York Voters Are Realigning.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

THE EVOLUTION in American politics is exemplified by the decision of Thomas E. Dewey, special "rackets" prosecutor, to accept the Republican call to run for district attorney in New York county on the ticket with Mayor Fiorello La Guardia, Fusionist.

But it was not a "Republican" call. It was a Progressive-New Deal call. The Republican nomination was the most convenient one.

Actually, Old Guard Republicans have no use for Mayor La Guardia. If Senator Royal S. Copeland, the Manhattan Tammany candidate, can win the Democratic nomination over New Deal-Farley Democrat Jeremiah T. Mahoney, then the Republicans will vote for Copeland, not La Guardia. Indeed, Senator Copeland is trying for the Republican nomination, too. And so possibly will La Guardia—who had it the last time as well as the Fusionist nomination.

REALIGNMENT

New York City, thus is demonstrating what is likely to occur elsewhere throughout the nation.

Actually, voters have dropped party designations—for the nonce—in order to vote for men who represent their views or who will forward their principles.

Congress, killing virtually every New Deal measure put before it, eager to get home—and away from President Roosevelt and the New Deal—may find a "worse" New Deal at home. Congress and many public commentators seem to be among the last to learn that there has been a far greater evolution in the minds of voters than in the efforts of President Roosevelt, or subordinant New Dealers.

Mayoralty elections in 1937, congressional elections in 1938, may be an astounding prelude to the presidential election of 1940.

The anti-New Dealers, thus far, are in a bad spot for the 1940 presidential election. So are the Democrats. Are the people talking about anybody except Roosevelt? This writer has gone through hundreds of letters, editorials and articles and has listened in on many conversations, and the sole person discussed politically in a national sense is Roosevelt—either in enthusiasm or in damnation. That is unique.

Republican politicians repeatedly discuss Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, but some observers are beginning to wonder whether Vandenberg could carry his own state. It has become highly orrganized as to labor, and its farmers are prospering under Democratic rule. Labor, of course, has become determinedly anti-Republican; it believes even President Roosevelt does not go far enough.

No old rule seems to apply to present political status.

STRANGEST OF ALL

But, strongest of all, the man that the New Deal ostensibly is supporting for the Democratic mayoralty nomination in New York, Jeremiah, is not the chief or real New Dealer in the race. Mayor La Guardia is the real New Dealer; he is beyond Roosevelt. And yet he may receive the Republican nomination, as well as the Fusionist, and fight so-called New Deal candidates.

Furthermore, young Mr. Dewey, who finally answered the Republican call to run for prosecutor, is not a Republican, but a determined independent. Under our antiquated election laws, he merely had to have a party label.

Dewey, New York's new hero because of smashing racket rings, is merely 35. He came to New York nine years ago, at 22, from his home in Michigan. He has a splendid voice, thus he was undetermined whether to try to reach the top as a singer or a lawyer. He had studied law at the University of Michigan and at Columbia, thus he cast his fate with law.

He held jobs with several law firms. An acquaintance with former U. S. District Attorney George Z. Medalie was fortunate. Medalie made Dewey chief assistant U. S. attorney when Dewey was merely 28.

Dewey never had tried a criminal case prior to November, 1933. That is when he put Irving (Waxey Gordon) Wexler on trial. He obtained a conviction of this underworld power. While the trial was going on,

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

CONFISCATION

Every taxpayer must help pay for the government's ventures into electric power production. And every city is in potential danger of losing industries and population because of the unfair advantages government-owned, tax-subsidized, tax-financed plants possess.

For example, a manufacturer has announced that he will move his factory from East St. Louis to Eastern Tennessee in order to get cheaper electricity. Commenting on this, the St. Charles, Missouri, "Cosmos-Monitor" said: "The TVA has been created through government subsidy. The taxpayers' funds are being used to 'bait' industry to locate in this area to the detriment and expense of other manufacturing areas. How can the city of St. Charles compete against such government competition?"

If government can use the money of all the people to give a certain area preferred electric rates, it can use the money of all the people to give cheaper transportation, cheaper goods, cheaper land—cheaper anything. There is no difference in principle between government in the power business and government in the clothing or any other business in competition with every businessman and taxpayer.

It's easy to see what the extension of such a socialistic policy will produce. Other communities will demand that government give them "cheap" power. Then the politicians can spend more billions to cover the whole country with tax-subsidized plants. This may seem absurd—but a bill is now pending in congress to create seven more regional electric authorities of the TVA order.

TODAY Is The Day

THURSDA Y, AUG. 19.

Once Upon Aug. 19—Caius Octavius, Emperor Augustus, first crowned head of Rome, died, aged 77, on August 19, 14 A. D. He was the emperor whose rule extended over Jerusalem when Christ Jesus was born.

Augustus himself was born in September, but, a believer in numerology, he regarded the 6th (Sextilis) as his lucky month. He took a day from February to add to it and renamed it August in his honor. Then he died in his lucky month!

He was afraid of lightning, and lightning foretold his death. When a bolt struck and inscribed statue of him in Rome, the force cracked the C off his name and left the rest unharmed. Soothsayers told him that within 100 days he would die, for C was the symbol of 100, and Aesar signified a god, such as Augustus hoped to be after his death.

Augustus died within 100 days, to be succeeded by Tiberius, who is made one of the most fascinating characters in history in Robert Graves' "I Claudius."

Once a workman obtained an audience with Tiberius, produced a crystal goblet, and dashed it down to the floor before him. It did not break. The workman proudly sought to explain the significance of his discovery to the emperor.

"Does anyone else know the secret of this glass?" Tiberius asked. Informed that no one else did, he remarked, "If this art be propagated, gold and silver will be of no more value than dirt," and ordered the workman to be executed. Thus he delayed introduction of safety glass for 20 centuries.

On Aug. 19, 1699, five women and a man were hanged at Salem, Massachusetts Bay colony, as witches. The man was Rev. George Burroughs, 42-year-old Harvard graduate. As he was led to the gallows, he firmly recited the Lord's Prayer. This, some doubtful persons among the sightseers suggested, could not be done by a witch. The distinguished Harvard intellectual Cotton Mather, who was sitting on horseback supervising the proceedings, reminded the crowd that the devil often appeared as an angel of light, and the gallows did its work.

The evidence against one of the women witches, Susannah Martin, was that "On a rainy day she walked over a good bit of country without getting her skirts or hose muddy; such neatness could only have been attained through the aid of the devil"! A violent wind that blew as Burroughs was arrested was was proof, in the minds of the judges, of his connection with the

QUESTION

He was a faster man than I
And though I ran my best
Ere long I saw him pass me by
Victorious in the test.
For that must I be turned away
A failure on the judgment day?

He was a stronger man than I.
His body sturdier made.
He left me in the dust to lie
Beaten and sore dismayed.
But is it failure, Lord, to fight
And lose to one of greater might?

He was a shrewder man than I
And always seemed to see
Advantage with a clearer eye
Than that allowed to me.
But must success at last be told
In terms of silver and of gold?

Oh, what are failure and success?
How reckoned shall they be?
Against this worldly "more and less"
What stands for victory?
Of great and little, both being true,
Which is the noble1 of the two?

Friends Honor Tommy Gray

New York Actor, Gone Ten Years, Is Honored By Former Friends

MAN ILLUSTRATES WHILE IN EIGHTIES

By O. O. MINTYRE

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—They are having a get together of former friends and admirers to pay tribute to Tommy Gray, gone these ten years. Tommy was one of the Broadway gallants, a trut wit, actor, song writer and a light hearted churl along the buoyant boulevard.

O. O. McIntyre

His boon companion and confidant was the equally beloved Sime Silverman, of Variety. Sime liked nothing better than to corral Tommy, pilot him to the far away corner of a grill, surround him with congenial companions and let him ventilate his amusing observations.

Tommy came back from England one time wearing the first gray derby the town had ever seen outside the English picture papers. One of his memorable mots was a sunny morning when he passed Lee Shubert and Marcus Loew on a Claridge corner in earnest talk. As he swung by he called "Hi Lee, Hi Loew."

He was just getting into his proper niche—with producers seeking his lines—when he fell ill and passed away. Among the other Broadway wits who have given freely and gratuitously of their humor were Dave Montgomery's brother, Scamp, and Frisco.

William Faversham, now comfortably located in an Actors' Home at East Islip, writes me allegorically of his new life after years of top stage stardom: "Years ago I boarded a certain ship for a long cruise towards Everywhere. Before we had gone far on our voyage I realized I was on a vessel that was not sea worthy and there was a premonition we should be wrecked sooner or later. There was no safe shore within reach so I decided to stand by and try to be of use when the fatal day came. After sailing many seas, with storms from all quarters of the compass, the fatal day came and I found myself adrift—alone! I was soon picked up by a splendid boat that had aboard many people that I knew. They took me to their island, a beautiful place and upon it grew all that one's heart could desire—peace, rest, contentment and one need fear storms no more. I asked them to let me live there and they very graciously consented. So that is where I now live. I call it The Island of Rejuvenation.

So far as I can discover the dapper Reiginald Birch is oldest illustrator in the field. He is crowding the 80's. One of his tokens of fame—and one that gets in his hair—was his illustrations for the original edition of "Little Lord Fauntleroy." He also has been collaborating with authoress Laura G. Richards on a book. At 87, Mrs. Richards is going good. Incidentally her husband is hale and hearty at 90.

George Abbott has become The Miracle Man of the theatre. Almost every play that goes through his hands brings a Midas touch to the box office. His most notable recent success, of course, was "Room Service" which portrays the dead beats of the Broadway hotels with surprising reality. They are a guild—these hotel beats—and that the stage has never dramatized them before is a shining example of overlooking the obvious. Abbott is a big contributing cause to the stage holding on, following so many knock out punches in recent years.

Thingumbobs: Fannie Brice has a daughter taller than she . . . Adele Astaire in London never missed one of her brother Fred's broadcasts from Hollywood . . . Mrs. Will Rogers is writing her memoirs for the Saturday Evening Post . . . Ethel Merman is richest of the torch singers . . . Charlie Chaplin plays the violin left handed . . . The Roy Howards' daughter Jane is gathering journalistic experience in the United Press office in Honolulu.

One of Park avenue's lady wits has long believed that those in receiving lines at receptions paid no attention to the murmured banalities of arriving guests. To test it she went down the line bobbing and smirking: "I've just murdered my husband, the so-and-so, and left him at home in the bath tub." Without exception all bowed and murmured, "so glad to see you," and the rest of it. There used to be a crack auto salesman who could mingle, in the manner of double talk, vituperation and insults so cleverly with a saccharine sales talk that no prospect ever caught the insinuations. Proving that most of us hear only what we want to hear.

Youthful Bandit Confesses; Tells Police Everything

Boy 11 Years Old Talks Like Veteran Of Underworld; Robbed Two Stations

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 19.—An 11-year-old self-styled "experienced bandit" was in police custody here today after admitting, police said, he committed two gas station robberies.

The lad, picked up yesterday by police, was said to have told a tale of robbing a gas station in Cumberland, Md., of $75 while hitch-hiking from his home in Washington, D. C., and of stealing $100 from a station immediately upon his arrival here. He had $97 on him when arrested, police said.

Quite nonchalantly the youth boasted it would have been no trouble at all to have escaped from the two patrolmen who arrested him.

"Why, all I'd have had to do was to drop my glasses out and they would have let me out to get them, and I'd have run away," he said.

"Another way would have been to hit the driver on the head with the mace that was in the back of the car, when I got out. But I didn't want to kill you," one of the patrolmen quoted him as saying.

Police said they planned to contact Washington authorities today.

New Postoffices For This District Provided In Bill

New Wilmington Among The Towns Listed For Postoffice Under Deficiency Act

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 19.—New post offices would be authorized for Beaver, Evans City, Freedom, New Wilmington, Sharon and Slippery Rock in the third deficiency appropriation bill just passed by the house of representatives and certain to receive senate approval before adjournment.

The bill would place congress on record as authorizing the Treasury Department to construct new buildings at those places when money became available. In other words, these communities would be promoted to the eligible preferred list. Probably not more than one or two of them would be erected in the next three years.

The bill would fix the limit of costs at $75,000 for Evans City, New Wilmington, Freedom, Slippery Rock and Sharon. The limit for the Beaver building would be $100,000.

Veteran Of Old Timers Association Expressed Pleasure At Day's Success

With a broad smile bordering his face after a full day of activities, William T. Butz, secretary of the Old Timer's Association for many years and now treasurer, today had this to say relative to Wednesday's 31st annual Old Timer's Reunion at picturesque Cascade Park:

"During my 31 years as secretary and now treasurer of the association, yesterday's reunion was an old timers gathering in every sense of the word. The turnout was good and all those present enjoyed themselves immensely. Some persons were present for the first time in 31 years. I am greatly pleased at the outcome.

The grand march was one of the outstanding features. It was strictly an old timer's march. Everyone marched that was able to walk. The program was splendid from start to finish. I was greatly pleased to see and shake hands with Mrs. Ada Bennett Wade, of Florida, sister of the famous Charles Bennett, catcher for the Detroit baseball team some years ago. I want to thank everyone who paricipated in making the reunion the success it was. You can also say it was too hot."

Crops In State Are Doing Fine

Uneven Rainfall Recently Had Varying Effects On Crops In State

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—Uneven rainfall recently had varying effects on Pennsylvania's crops, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported Wednesday in its weekly synopsis of weather and crop conditions.

Heavy local rains covered about two-thirds of the commonwealth during the week ended yesterday, forecaster George S. Bliss explained, leaving the remainder more or less in need of moisture. Lightest rains were in the three southwestern counties and in York, Adams and Franklin counties.

Corn Doing Well

"Corn is doing well excepting in the driest regions," read the government report. "Haying continues under most favorable conditions, but there were some losses in curing. The second crop of alfalfa was seemingly good in all parts of the state, but timothy and clover were stunted in some places.

"Oat threshing continues with mostly fair returns. Early potatoes are good in yield and quality, and the late crop is promising in the chief potato-growing regions. Reports on tobacco are meagre. Buckwheat and cow peas are generally good."

"A fair to good crop of early apples is being marketed. Peaches are ripening rapidly, and prospects are that the yield will be at least three times as much as that of last year."

The report added that there are still many comparatively dry regions in which all crops are stunted.

Four Suspects Held By Police

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 19.—Four youths, suspects in the "stick-up" slaying of State Trooper John J. Broski, were arrested here as Pennsylvania motor police heads paid silent tribute at funeral services for the dead officer at Wilkes-Barre.

One of the suspects, suffering bullet wounds, was taken into custody at the Scranton state hospital. He gave his name as Harry Friedberger, 24, of Eldorado, Ill., according to police.

Swift raids following Friedberger's arrest netted the trio of other youths and a blood-stained sedan that police said contained revolvers, pump guns and cartridges, and coin bags bearing the stamps of two midwestern banks.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 19—A would-be "dove-of-peace" was in the southside hospital here today with a possible fractured skull.

"W. B. A. 98 which is the New Castle group, will be pleased to learn that the honor of the first state president was given to this district. Miss Dorothy Hertel of Butler, Pa., was elected to fill the office."

Child Is Scalped By Washing Machine

(International News Service)

COBLESKILL, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Nine-year-old Jean Dargie looked forward today to the time when she can tell her children how she was scalped—long, long after the last persky redskin had been driven from this upstate region.

A little mother's helper, Jean ventured too close to mother's washing machine. There was a momentary click-clack as Jean's curly hair became entangled. Before the machine could be stopped, a three-by-five inch section of hair and scalp had been wrested from the child's head.

Physicians sewed back the missing strip and Jean suffered no ill effects.

The World At A Glance

Dewey rose to a full-fledged U. S. attorney for the district.

Then, real fame came when, two years ago, he became a special deputy district attorney, appointed by the governor, when the Tammany-bound district attorney would not act, and successfully prosecuted the strongly intrenched rackets of New York.

A BLAST

Dewey will add strength to the already strong La Guardia ticket.

He knows how to let loose thunderbolts. Listen to this, upon agreeing to run:

"As a result of the work of (racket) investigation, it has become clear to me that there is an alliance of long standing between crime and certain elements of Tammany Hall.

"For 20 years Tammany Hall has controlled criminal prosecution in this country and for 20 years the power of the criminal underworld has grown. The alliance must be broken. . . .

"I am happy to enter the struggle for good government at the side of Mayor La Guardia, whose wholehearted support and encouragement in the work I have been conducting has always been of the greatest importance."

Three Japanese Airmen Escape As Planes Come Down

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, Aug. 19—By flying, running and swimming, three Japanese air pilots today won a thrilling race with death.

Hit while on a bombing expedition, they were forced to land their plane on the Socony-Vacuum Oil company's six-hole golf course, in the Chinese-held section of Pootung. The plane smashed against a wall, but the pilot, to keep the damaged machine from falling into Chinese hands, pulled a time bomb and blew it up.

Pursued by Chinese farmers, the three then dashed towards the Whangpoo river where, at their frantic signals, sailors from a Japanese ship managed to save them in the nick of time.

Nations Caught In China Crisis

Death Of American In International Settlement Is Same As If In This Country

SHANGHAI IS DANGER SPOT

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—As I have previously remarked, it is painful to have an American killed, as a result of the Jap-Chinese war, right in front of the Palace hotel, in Shanghai.

Some accounts have it that he was killed in the hotel lobby. A few other Americans were killed about the same time, but they ran into trouble in the outskirts of the city, which maybe they were indiscreet in visiting at such a juncture.

The Palace, however, is in the very foreignest part of the foreign settlement. And the settlement, by rule of extra-territoriality, is occidental soil. It isn't exclusively American. It is occidentally international. It is as much American as anything. Uncle Sam at least is a partner in it. An American, killed in it, theoretically is killed right here at home.

I am trying to give a word picture of the Shanghai situation.

THE BUND

From the Palace's main entrance one steps out directly upon the Bund, foreign Shanghai's waterfront, on the Whangpoo river.

The Bund is approximately twice as wide as the average thoroughfare in the United States. On one side of it are the Palace and other large hotels; the Shanghai club (with the longest bar in the world); headquarters of most of the foreign banking houses; a large department store; the custom house; et cetera. Everything European (including American). It is a mixture (that side of the street) of Broadway, Wall Street and Fifth avenue.

But it has only one built-up side to it.

Across the way is a narrow ribbon of park, and then the Whangpoo river.

LARGE JAPANESE FLEET

In the Whangpoo there always are, at anchor, several cruisers or gunboats of each of the occidental powers.

A majority of the top officers of these vessels sojourn ashore, usually as guests at the Palace hotel, taking an occasional squint from their respective front windows, through binoculars, on the decks of their various war craft.

In the recent particular instance there evidently was an offensive preponderance of Japanese cruisers in the Whanpoo. Two or three would have been customary, but it is said there were 21 of them.

Chinese aviators decided to bomb them.

A COMPARISON

It was as if an air fleet had tried to bomb a naval squadron, tied up at the lower end of Van Buren street, off Michigan avenue, Chicago.

In the event of a demonstration of that kind, it would be surprising if quite a number of bombs, heaved overboard from a mile aloft out of a murky sky, did not miss their intended targets and hit the Auditorium hotel, on the mainland.

That is what occurred at Shanghai.

LARGE FOREIGN INTERESTS

I never had much sympathy with outsiders who undertake to butt into a disturbed foreign situation, in order to make money out of it, and then call on their home folk to protect them.

But Shanghai is a little different.

The foreigners were granted territory there, so far back that the "memory of man runneth not to the contrary". They are established. Their interests are enormous. They reach, from Shanghai, away back to Thibet.

A CONQUEST OF SHANGHAI?

The Japanese, late comers, are trying to grab the whole thing.

What they really want is, not so much to gobble North China—Peiping, Tientsin and thereabouts. What they want is Shanghai, the gateway to the whole country. And they do not have to take it away from the Chinese alone; they have to take it, also away from the occidental folk who have built up their trade and are commercially intrenched there.

In short, it is a Japanese war of conquest more against the occident than against China.

Ruth Harkness Defies Shanghai

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, Aug. 19.—For a woman who braved the mountains of western China to bring back to America the only live Pandas ever seen there, war-torn Shanghai had no perils today.

Ruth Harkness, whose furry, raccoon-like Pandas now are in the Chicago zoo, went aboard the tender which took 284 Americans to the Dollar Liner President McKinley today.

But when the "all ashore" whistle blew, Miss Harkness left scores of American, Chinese, and Hawaiian women aboard and cooly walked down the gangplank with the departing husbands.

For a low-growing carpeting plant in partial shade with normal moisture, Linaria hepaticaefolia is certainly worth while. Its fleshy, round, dark green leaves, with rather definite white markings, and its pale lavender flowers carried on short stems above the foliage, make it unusually attractive.

Noted Here And There In Other Newspapers

George Gilly, San Francisco grocery clerk, rang up a dime but the cash register recorded a live mouse. The register boosted the rodent into the little glass penthouse atop the box. It skittered back into the mechanism and rattled furiously about until Gilly took the register apart. It escaped.

First love is rather unsatisfactory because it is usually a divine illusion, Mme. Jean Voilier, beautiful French novelist, declared in an interview. "Girls had better get a sweetheart who has had the experience of a couple of other loves." And vice versa?

Miss Marian Lill, a vivacious little brunette of London, whose life work is coaxing people to take their clothes off, explains why a nudist camp is just about the only place in England where one cannot get a scotch-and-soda. It's because of the new nudists, she says. They are liable to get giddy.

Walter L. Thompson of Newton, Mass., owns a "drive itself" car. He parked the machine at the top of a hill and apparently forgot to put on the emergency brake. The car rolled 200 yards at high speed, keeping in the center of the road, and then parking itself neatly along side a curb.

There's still "gold in them thar hills," according to Mrs. Charlotte Sawyer of Butte county, California. One of her chickens which had been grazing in the hills had 98 cents worth of gold in its craw when killed, while a duck yielded 20 cents worth.

"Tonics may create a little fuzz but nothing more." That is the discouraging news the American Medical Association's "director of debunking" gives to the nation's bald-headed men. When hair is gone it's gone, said Dr. Frank J. Clancy of Chicago.

Death glanced at Eleanor Zaradzki, a four-year-old McKeesport girl this week and because she stood stark still, he passed her on. Eleanora wandered out on the railroad tracks and was entrapped between two trains roaring along in opposite directions. Engineer I. S. Rhodes of Glenwood, said afterwards "I reached for the whistle, then realized it would frighten and confuse her, so I shut off the steam and applied the brakes." The train screamed to a stop. Rhodes jumped out of his cab and hurried back the tracks. There stood Eleanora, miraculously safe, but bewilderwed and crying. Engineer Rhodes, beaming now, gave her a bright nickel and patted her on the head.

Five Hundred Attend Picnic Of Brick Plant

Employes And Families Of Bessemer Company Have Outing Wednesday

ROY WALLIS IS GENERAL CHAIRMAN

Employes of the Metropolitan Paving Brick Company of Bessemer and their families, numbering about 500, had a picnic so successful Wednesday that it will probably be the fore runner of many others.

It took place at a picnic grounds on the Mt. Jackson road; beginning at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and ending at midnight.

Special guests of the occasion included Vice President Bob Kiplinger of Canton, O., General Superintendent Roy C. Wallis and Superintendent of No. 2 Plant Paul A. Kanengeiser, of Bessemer, Attorney T. W. Dickey and County Treasurer Joe Hartland of New Castle, Dr. and Mrs. O. D. Brungard of Youngstown, O., Chief of Police A. A. Shoup, Burgess C. D. Montgomery and Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Campbell, of Bessemer.

Foremen of all the various departments were present. Games in which both old and young took part were provided and everybody enjoyed himself immensely. The winners were as follows:

Mushball game—No. 1 Plant. Score 26 to 6.

Cracker eating contest — Dick Kanengeiser.

Potato contest—Zink Juricich.

Tug of war—No. 1 Plant.

Needle threading—Mr. and Mrs. Andy Ridacich.

Sack race—Paul Young.

Penny scramble—Alberto Spizzo.

Shoe lacing—Don Baird.

Polka dance—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gurgurina.

Square dancing was enjoyed, with Ira Hoffmaster issuing the calls.

Every picnicker had plenty to eat. Thirty baked hams were disposed of, as well as huge quantities of everything that goes with them.

Each committeeman spoke to the crowd through a loud speaker and all were highly pleased by the success of the affair, and hope to have another in the near future.

Committeemen included Roy C. Wallis, general chairman, P. A. Kanengeiser, assistant general chairman, John Slavich, eats, Tony Kalich, refreshments, Dick Hilliard, sports, and Kosman Bryan, music.

Rather Attend Than Read Of Reunions, Stevensons Agree

Attending Old Timer's Day celebrations here has it all over reading about them, Mr. and Mrs. Bert E. Stevenson, San Juan, Puerto Rico, residents, concluded at Cascade Park yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson, here for a visit, were the participants who came the farthest distance for Wednesday's reunion.

"Up until today," said Mr. Stevenson, well known here, "we have had to content ourselves with reading the reports in the New Castle News down in San Juan. But this year it's different, we're here. It's an enjoyable affair and we're meeting many of our old friends."

"But," added Mr. Stevenson—and Mrs. Stevenson, too—"who turned on this heat?"

the descendants of the county's earliest residents, and asked all who were not Old Timers to vacate seats which had been reserved for members of the association so that those who had come there to take part in the program could have their proper place.

President Rentz then introduced Judge James A. Chambers, himself a descendant of old time residents of the county, who brought the greetings of the community to the Old Timers present.

Old Timers' Day, he stated, was a notable event here. It was one of the first institutions of its kind formed in this country and the example set by earlier citizens has been widely copied throughout the nation, so that today numerous Old Timers' celebrations and Home Coming days are observed. Judge Chambers congratulated those who were responsible for the occasion.

He then went into the history of Lawrence county, which he stated is less than 100 years old. Its formation was due to the splendid community spirit which has always characterized Lawrence county.

How County Was Formed.

Lawrence county, he said, was once part of Beaver and Mercer counties. With the New Castle community far distant from the county seats, the citizens were not satisfied and felt that they should have a county of their own. They felt they should have a separate existence. Agitation for this separate county met with opposition from Beaver and Mercer counties. Finally the question became a political issue.

The Whig party predominated in the two counties and they were opposed to the plan, but the Democrats favored it. Sentiment in the local district finally crystallized and an organization was formed to promote the idea. Members of the organization adopted Lawrence's famous saying, "Don't give up the ship,' and promised that if a separate country was ever formed they would name it Lawrence.

Their persistency won out, Judge Chambers stated, and the same intense community spirit which developed at that time was prevailed to the present day.

At the conclusion of Judge Chambers' address, President Rentz called William T. Butz, the only surviving member of the original seven men who founded Old Timer's Day, to the platform and introduced him. James P. Sankey, of Crafton, Pa., who with John B. Rodgers, also introduced served in the famous Roundhead regiment.

The grand march then formed and President and Mrs. Fred L. Rentz, leading the procession, followed by the officers of the association, and their wives, the various figures were gone through, under the direction of Frank S. Robinson, chairman of the dance committee.

Entertainment Starts

In the procession were two sweet ladies, Miss Rebecca E. Browne, of Lincoln avenue, a descendant of Dr. R. Audley Browne, and Mrs. Eva N. Wait Suryker of North Mercer St., who appeared in the costumes of former years, with their high collars and lacy frills.

After the grand march, old fashioned dances were participated in, with Bill Brooks, of Highland Heights, calling the numbers.

Most of the dancers were not as spry, perhaps, as in former years, but the public didn't catch on to the fact, the way they went to it. Aching feet and tired muscles today, however, was the toll taken by the exertions of the dancers.

During the course of the afternoon Rex Patch, Lou Pearsall, Arch Cubbison and Reed McCullough, entertained with the songs of yesterday, 'She's only a Bird in a Gilded Cage," "After the Ball is Over," etc. Attired in comic costumes, they made a big hit with the crowd.

More valtzes and square dances were then enjoyed, with the crowd dispersing at 5 o'clock, determined to come back again next year for another similar event. Music for the dancing was furnished by Elsa Von Moltke Emery's orchestra.

The success of the affair was due to the splendid efforts of the committees and officers. The officers and directors are: President, Fred L. Rentz, vice president, O. H. P. Green; treasurer, William T. Butz; secretary, Herbert S. Kirk; directors Robert Whaley, Joseph Hannon, Richard F. Dana and Frank S. Robinson.

The committees were:

Music and entertainment—William T. Butz, Robert H. Whaley.

Publicity—Fred L. Rentz, Herbert S. Kirk.

Floor—Frank S. Robinson, Joseph T. Campbell.

Old Time Costumes—Mrs. Maude Whinery Hamilton.

Spinning wheels—Mrs. Howard Kirk.

Much of the interest which centered in this year's reunion was due to the splendid efforts of the committee which arranged the displays which have been shown in stores of the city during the past few days.

Among others on the reception committee were a group of five sisters. These were the Woodworth girls, descendants of the Stritmater family: Mrs. J. Howard Frew, Mrs. Clair H. Fischer, Miss Grace Woodworth, Mrs. John A. Edgar and Mrs. Eugene J. Kennedy. Another descendant of this family, who was not present was Mrs. George A. Rigby.

These who attended the reunion from points outside Lawrence county, and who registered with the Secretary, Herbert S. Kirk were the following:

A CUTTING REPLY!

I want a shave," said the disgruntled sergeant, as he climbed into the barber's chair. "No haircut, no shampoo, no bayrum, witch hazel, hair tonic, hot towels or face massage. I don't want the manicurist to hold my hand, nor the bootblack to handle my feet. I don't want to be brushed off, and I'll put on my coat myself. I just want a plain shave, with no trimmings. Understand that?"

"Yes, sir," said the barber, quietly. "Lather, sir?"

"I hear there is drought in your village?"

"Drought! Everything is dried up. My brother sent me a letter and, would you believe it, the stamp was put on with a safety pin!"

Challenges Right Of Senator Black To Take His Seat

Member Of Supreme Court Bar Files For Petition To Halt Black Taking Seat

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—A challenge to the right of Senator Hugo L. Black to take his seat on the supreme court bench was lodged with the court Wednesday by Albert Levitt, recently a special assistant attorney general.

Citing constitutional provisions prohibiting members of congress from accepting office, the emoluments of which were increased during the term of office of the member of congress, Levitt asserted Black is ineligible.

As a member of the supreme court bar, Levitt filed a move for leave to petition for an order to Black to show affirmative cause why he should be permitted to sit on the court.

Levitt asserted that as a member of the court bar, he is an officer of the court and is under duty to present to the court evidence of any "unlawful activity" coming within his knowledge.

Canadian Marriage Goes On The Rocks

Frank Soloe Thinks Bride Only Married Him To Enter United States

Frank Soloe of 15 South street has filed an application at the office of Prothonotary John A. Edgar, for a divorce from his wife, Eva Hubert Soloe, who is now supposed to be a resident of Cleveland, O. There are some unusual circumstances connected with the application.

The respondent is a native of Roumania who had emigrated to Canada. It seems that Soloe had been in correspondence with her and in September, 1929 met her in Windsor, Can., where they were married. Soloe was considerably older than his bride, but she told him, according to the application, that it did not matter, as her purpose was not merely to enter the United States. After the marriage they came to New Castle.

Soloe claims that upon their arrival here his bride refused to live with him, but secured employment up to 1930 when she went to Cleveland. In December 1931 she was picked up in Cleveland for alleged illegal entry into the United States. Upon learning of her marriage the authorities agreed to drop the charges if she would live with her husband.

She agreed to this and came to New Castle and resided with her husband at 8 Reynolds street until January, 1932, when she went back to Cleveland. The libellant maintains that she only came to live with him to escape prosecution, and asks for a divorce on the grounds of desertion.

Private office of Judge James A. Chambers and W. Walter Braham at the Lawrence county cour house known to the legal fraternity as "chambers" has just been ornamented with framed photographs of all the judges who ever sat on the Lawrence county bench. The photographs are cabinet size and are encased in neat black frames about 12x14 inches square. Underneath each picture is the judge's name and the years during which he served. The names are placed on brass plates about three inches long and an inch wide.

For years past there have been portraits of some of the judges adorning the walls of the office, but they were irregular in size and the list was not complete. Judge Chambers and Braham conceived the idea of getting photographs of uniform size, with frames to match. The matter was taken up with the county commissioners who readily gave their approval. The pictures have been in preparation for some time, but it was not until this week that they were hung on the walls. They have been arranged in an artistic manner and present a full history of the judicary as relating to Lawrence county.

Dean of the judges who have occupied the local bench, was Judge Daniel Agnew who served from 1852 to 1863 inclusive. At that time this judicial district was composed of Butler, Beaver and Lawrence counties. Judge Agnew afterwards became a chief justice and was one of the outstanding judges that the state has ever produced. Judge Agnew was followed by Judge Lawrence L. McGuffin who served from 1864 to 1874 inclusive. Beaver county then became a separate judicial district and this district was composed of Butler and Lawrence counties, with two judges, James Bredin and Ebenezer McJunkin, who served from 1875 to 1884 inclusive. Both of these judges were from Butler county.

Lawrence county elected the next judges, John McMichael served from 1885 to 1892, when he died, and Judge Aaron L. Hazen from 1885 to 1894, inclusive. J. Norman Martin of New Castle, was appointed to serve out the term of Judge McMichael from 1892 until the election. At the election John M. Greer of Butler was chosen and took office in 1893. Lawrence and Butler counties became separate judicial districts during his term, and Aaron L. Hazen of New Castle was elected in 1894. At the close of his term, W. D. Wallace was elected. He served from 1895 to 1904 inclusive. He was followed by William E. Porter 1905 to 1915. Judge Porter got an extra year by reason of a change in the election laws.

In 1916 S. P. Emery went on the bench and served to 1926. He was followed by R. L. Hildebrand, 1926 to 1936. During his term of office Lawrence county was given an additional judge and James A. Chambers was appointed October 1927. He served to 1928 and was then elected for a term of ten years. He is now serving his final year and is not a candidates for re-election. As soon as a new judge ascends the bench, his photograph will adorn the walls along with the others, who have gone before, as will that of Judge W. Walter Braham, who succeeded Judge Hildebrand. The photographs are not put up until the incumbents become ex-judges.

Report of County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland, filed with County Controller, Frank Hill, shows the condition of the county treasury at the close of business, August 17th as follows: general fund, $284,763.04, poor fund, $148,268.17; gas fund, $75,058.12.

In the estate of the late Tillie Rinker of Ellwood City, the executor Elmer Andrew Burr has presented to court a petition to sell property for the payment of debts. The executor and his wife have offered $3,000 for a property located at 524 Glen avenue, Ellwood City. All of the heirs interested are satisfied to sell the property for that amount, and Ray H. Aylesworth and Paul Albino, real estate brokers, who appraised it, are satisifed that it is a fair price. Judge Chambers fixed September 20 for a hearing at which time objections, if any, will be heard.

In the estate of the late Anna M. E. Moser, of Neshannock township, letters testamentary have been issued by Register and Recorder William R. Hanna, to Attorney Robert L. Wallace.

Quite a number of petitions for the appointment of election officers to fill positions on the new boards which will be necessary for the recently formed additional districts in this city, have been presented to court. No action has been taken on them as yet, but it is expected that appointments will be made within a short time.

Rigid Test For Prospective Drivers

Pennsylvania Motor Police Decidedly Strict In Testing Learners

MORE THAN 50 FAILED TUESDAY

Pennsylvania motor police in charge of examining prospective motor car drivers are "bearing down" and no one is given a legal right to drive a car who fails to show that he is qualified when given the test, according to observations. Yesterday more than 50 were unable to pass and must take another examination.

When the prospective enters the testing station in Sampson street, he presents his learner's permit and the registration card for the car he intends to use in the trial. He also is accompanied by a licensed operator and all cards must be signed in ink.

After these are presented, the officer at the desk asks his or her name, whether they have good vision and if they are crippled. After this information is secured the prospect is given a test for visibility. The learner must read a chart and also is tested for color blindness.

The prospect then is sent outside the station to the cartway where another officer checks the car to be use in the test. Should any mechanical defects or the lights be found faulty the test is refused the prospect until the car is tested.

The applicant next is given a test in operation. He drives the car north on Sampson street and turns in the middle of the street. He is supposed to turn without the car touching the curb. He drives back to the test station.

While seated in the car with the officer he is examined as to his knowledge of the motor laws of the state.

If he satisfies the officer he is qualified to drive his learner's permit is so stamped and he is authorized to drive on the approved permit. Later he receives a driver's license. If he does not satisfy the officer as to his fitness to drive a car his learner's permit is stamped "failed" and he or she again must take a test.

Second Ward Business Man Announces For Republican Nomination

BENJAMIN I. FRENCH

At the primary election Sept. 14, '37, the citizens of this city will nominate two Republican candidates for the important office of city council. I wish to announce as a candidate for this office. For the past eighteen years I managed and operated the National Market, on Washington St. and to many I am better known as "Frenchy:" The wide and varied experience I received in the operation of the National Market I believe has given me the necessary qualifications to serve you as a member of city council, which has the power to levy taxes and spend the money received for the operation of our city.

I am a property owner, have always been interested in civic affairs and if I meet with your approval my only pledge is that I will render to the citizens of this city my best efforts towards a successful business administration.

I am waging an energetic campaign and as the time is short it will be impossible for me to contact all voters, I earnestly ask all of my friends and acquaintances to use their influence in my behalf.

Respectfully yours,
BENJ. I. FRENCH.

Lightning Loss Near Grove City

GROVE CITY, Aug. 19.—A loss estimated at $5,000 resulted at the farm of Thomas Jamieson, six miles north of Grove City, early yesterday morning during a severe electrical storm that fired the main barn and spread to two other outbuildings. The residence, across the road was not ignited.

Struck by lightning shortly after midnight, the flames engulfed the large main barn, spread to a smaller barn and a milk house. Mr. Jamieson was able to rescue a team of horses and the contents of a corn crib, but a valuable bull, a colt and three calves were burned to death, and the entire season's crop of hay, oats, wheat and small crops were destroyed, along with a quantity of farm machinery.

The loss is partially covered with insurance, but represents destruction of the family's entire summer's work. Earlier in the spring, lightning killed three valuable cows owned by Mr. Jamieson.

Teachers' Tenure Law Is Upheld

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 19.—Pennsylvania's new teachers' tenure law, enacted by the 1937 legislature, was upheld by the Lackawanna county court today in ordering two dismissed Moscow borough teachers reinstated.

The school board of the Moscow school district had refused to renew the teaching contracts of Dorothy Hollenback and John D. Storm, teachers, on the grounds that the teachers tenure law was unconstitutional.

When flowers are to be displayed indoors, they should be cut as early in the day as possible, because then they are full of sap, which gradually disappears as the sun beats down upon the plants. Peonies should be cut when they are in the bud. Many growers like to cut them at night and keep them in a pail of cold water until the next day. If the weather is warm, it is a good plan to take a pail of water into the garden, dropping the blooms into it as soon as they are removed from the plants.

No Work No Pay Ruled In Mercer

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 19—The board of county commissioners, on advice of its solicitor, has deducted from the vouchers of County Auditor James Gamble, pay for the days he appeared in court as a witness in the hearing on the appeal of the report of the county auditors for the fiscal year 1935. The solicitor takes the stand that Gamble was not preforming any part of his duty as a county auditor while he was in court, and therefore is not entitled to draw his salary for days thus engaged.

Gamble has objected to the action.

The amount of money involved is $6 a day for six days, a total of $36.

Too Realistic For Operator

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, Aug. 19.—So graphic was a wireless operator's description of the Japanese aerial attack on the big Ghenju radio station today that an operator taking the message miles away in the Sassoon House was paralyzed with fright.

By throwing another scare into the operator with a pointed pistol, the station manager in the hotel brought him out of his panic.

Chenju station was badly crippled in the attack, and has been working only spasmodically since.

SUGAR BILL OBSTACLE TO ADJOURNMENT

Conferees Differ Over Provisions

Senators Are Bucking At Garner's Streamlined Methods Of Passing Legislation

HOUSE LEADERS TRY FOR WAGE-HOUR BILL

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—A temporary deadlock between house and senate conferees over the sugar stabilization bill today interposed the only major obstacle to adjournment of the 75th congress Saturday night.

Insist On Passage

Sponsors of the bill were determined to hold congress in session until it is enacted. After settling the congressional controversy, its sponsors hoped to win President Roosevelt's approval, despite administration opposition to its provisions imposing quotas on the production of refined sugar in Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

The administration's new low-cost housing act, emasculated in the senate and rewritten in the house, meanwhile was sent to conference. There was a bare possibility this bill might provoke a controversy between the two branches and tend to delay adjournment.

In the senate, administration leaders sought prompt enactment of their bill to close loopholes in the income tax laws. Senator Schwellenbach (D) of Washington, blocked its enactment yesterday by threatening to filibuster unless its final passage was postponed overnight. Schwellenbach's objection was based against Vice President Garner's speedy methods in trying to have the bill passed and not against any specific provision of the bill.

Organize Bloc

It appeared a small bloc had been organized in the senate by Senator LaFollette (P) of Wisconsin, to slow legislative procedure. LaFollette objected to Garner's speed methods a week ago and apparently Schwellenbach shared his objections.

The tax bill, drafted by the treasury would close loopholes through which many rich taxpayers have reduced their taxes. It would prohibit the incorporation of personal talents and eliminate tax escapes through personal holding companies, foreign corporations and multiple trusts.

The third deficiency appropriation bill was next on the senate program. Senator Byrnes (D) of South Carolina, sought to incorporate in it an amendment setting aside $65,000,000 of AAA customs revenues to guarantee a twelve-cent-a-pound price to cotton growers. Byrnes would pay the growers the difference between 12 cents a pound and the average price at the ten spot markets on the day the producer sold his first bale. It would apply only to that portion of the crop raised in accordance with the soil conservation act.

In the house, the leaders planned another effort to revive the emasculated senate Black wage-hour bill, buried in the rules committee. This drive was toward placing a caucus of Democratic members on record as favoring its passage at this session.

New Castle Man After Motor Boaters

ROCHESTER, Pa., Aug. 19.—Backed by the Oakmont Boat Club, operators of motor boats on the Ohio river here have engaged counsel and will fight the Pennsylvania motor boat license law.

Informations against eight owners of boats were charged by Bertram C. Rick of New Castle, fish warden, with operating without such licenses. They waived hearing before Alderman S. C. Clark of Beaver Falls and engaged Attorney Harold Reed of Beaver to fight the case.

Owners of the boats contend they have Federal licenses and since the Ohio and Beaver rivers are navigable streams and under Federal control, why must they have state license tags?

EATS 25-POUND TURKEY ON HIS 92ND BIRTHDAY

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore.—"Eat, drink and be merry" is the motto of Aucephas R. Doolittle, who isn't afraid of the "for tomorrow you may die" part, even if he is 92.

When the near centenarian celebrated his 92nd birthday recently, he ordered a tumbler of good port and waded into a 25-pound turkey, partook generously of all the trimmings and then leaned back and blew out most of the 92 candles on his birthday cake in one breath.

A vigorous Yankee from Vermont, Doolittle has outlived two wives and is looking forward to reaching the 100 year mark.

He is deeply religious and has always paid one tenth of his income in tithing to the church.

TURKEYS USED IN GRASSHOPPER WAR

(International News Service)

GREELEY, Colo.—Carloads of turkeys were being rushed into northeastern Colorado farming regions as shock troops in the war being waged on grasshoppers.

The birds, lean and hungry, were shipped from Utah. The first carload consisted of 3,800 turkeys, eight weeks old, sent by fast freight from Murray, Utah.

The idea of using turkeys in the battle against insect hordes occurred to Utah farmers who had seen them attacking armies of Mormon crickets and other destructive pests. Later, they will be finished out on a diet of corn and marketed during the holiday season.

Oakridge Children Return From Camp

Crawford Oakridge Boys Spend Two Weeks At Y. M. C. A. And Boy Scout Camps

As the summer months are nearing an end the children at the Crawford-Oakridge Home are looking forward to the beginning of school, and all the good times that go with it.

Things are pretty quiet around the home these days, the boys having just returned from two weeks camping at Camp Fred L. Rentz and Boy Scout camp, and now each is working diligently on his own patch of garden, planted in the spring and which would do credit to the best of gardeners.

Three times a week a playground instructor teaches the boys and girls of the home to make new and interesting things in handicraft work, as well as teaching them many exciting games.

cember 3. Now a resident of Crafton, he comes here every year for Old Timers' Day, the Reynoldstown school reunion and for the get-together of the surviving veterans of the 100th regiment, Pennsylvania volunteer infantry—the "Roundheads". Mr. Sankey happens to be president of the Roundhead association.

The busiest corner in the pavilion was the one where Secretary Herbert S. Kirk presided over the registration. Mr. Kirk, experiencing his first reunion in the capacity of secretary, the post which William T. Butz long held, found his duties unending. His mother, Mrs. C. J Kirk, active in Old Timers' Day events for years, was his chief assistant. Together they saw to it that most of those present signed up.

Political candidates, one could see, were out in large numbers. Then, too, there was a touch—a gentle and pleasing touch—of the commercial in the gum distributing of an attractive young lady. Everyone was chewing gum before the afternoon was half over.

And they drank pop, too—the pavilion refreshment stand reported over 25 24-bottle cases disposed of just before the festivities closed.

Names and more names: The Rev. Charles C. Campbell, once at the Croton M. E. church here, now pastor of St. Luke's Episcopal church, Attica, N. Y., was a greatly interested participant. So was Mrs. Ada Bennett Wade of Bartow, Fla., born May 11, 1849. And J. C. Offutt, 82-year-old resident of Leesburg.

And more names: Mrs. Mary O'Rourke, Sacramento, Cal.; W. George Hunter, El Paso, Texas, at present making his home in the Hoyt apartments here; William J. Cochran, Ormond Beach, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kirker, Ymatila, Fla.; Mrs. Irene Penney Wilson and son, Thomas, Los Angeles.

Up to the registration desk came one Youngstown woman, a descendant of an old-timer, to sign. When they went to check her age they read: "Just 21 plus."

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Rea, 322 Locust street, were there. On October 12 of this year they will mark their 61st wedding anniversary.

One of several representatives from Alabama, home state of President Roosevelt's newly confirmed supreme court justice, Hugo Lafayette Black, was C. W. Davies, who lives in Axis. Mr. Davies couldn't be located for comment on the new justice.

Add more names: James E. Blaine, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stevenson—who took honors for traveling the farthest distance—San Juan, Puerto Rico. Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson met many of their friends.

Police weren't needed to keep order yesterday, but just the same two of the force's representatives were present in uniform to aid the old-timers in any way they could. Officers Dent H. Shields and George Price helped out in many ways.

From Nevada came Celestial E. Rammelkamp, a resident of Dayton. She was a guest of an old-timer. Others from afar were James M. Bevan, Miami, a descendant of an old-timer; Jennie Johnston Martin, Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bowden, Uplands, Cal., residents for 35 years, were present. They are visiting here with Mrs. Bowden's mother, Mrs. Mary A. Hoyland, and her sister, Mrs. Irving Tait.

One of the liveliest old-timers who has missed but two of the 31 reunions was D. N. Matthews, 1511 Hamilton street. He's now 88. Seventeen years ago he had a hip badly injured in an accident at the Shenango tin mill and that kept him away from two of the celebrations. Walking about with him was his 17-year-old grandson, Walter Zeigler, 504 Florence avenue.

Alderman and Mrs. H. G. Coates from the Seventh ward were in attendance. They agreed that they've missed but one reunion—one held the year they took a trip to Michigan. Another alderman was there, too, O. H. P. Green of the Third ward, with Mrs. Green. Mr. Green has long been active as the old-timers' vice president.

The "dean" of the old-timers, all of them, kept moving constantly about. He was William T. Butz, secretary of the reunion organization until this year. They tried to persuade him to take the post another year, but he declined. So they elected him treasurer. Mr. Butz is now 84.

Nettie Chapman Lutton, Maryland avenue, a descendant of New Castle's pioneer Crow family, enjoyed the day thoroughly. So did Charles Shoaff, who lives along R. F. D. 5, and who is 93 years of age. The heat didn't seem to spoil Mr. Shoaff's enthusiasm.

Down in the picnic grove, while the Old Timers' program was on, was the 72nd annual reunion of the Reynolds family. It's an all-day affair and is always held on the third Wednesday of August.

Mrs. Louisa Reiber, now 80, came from her home at 601 Superior street, to spend the afternoon. Lee Cook of Ft. Wayne, Ind., was also there. So was another Alabaman, Mrs. Ida Cook, from Montgomery, Ala. Mrs. Caroline Carson, of R. F. D. 3, told the registration folks that her mother, Mrs. Bartram, was the oldest woman present at the first Old Timers' Day reunion in 1907. Mrs. Grace Gibson Bryan, Orlando, Fla., descendant of one of the pioneer families here, was also in attendance.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Don't Forget To Turn Crank

This Is Advice Of Mayor Relative To Using Parking Meters

Autoists should not forget to turn the crank after they have deposited a nickel in a parking meter for 60 minutes parking Mayor Charles E. McGrath advised today.

He said some autoists have forgotten this and when the arrow did not operate the motorists received a tag. However, at police headquarters, when their claim was verified, they were excused of paying a $1.00 fine.

City Engineer Glenn R. Throop has been forced to repair several of the meters which became disarranged.

The city street department employes continued today to install meters. The cost of installation, placed at $2.00, will be refunded to the city by the company from whom the city bought the meters.

Installation of meters proceeded in North Mercer street today. After they have been installed the supports will be painted aluminum.

AROUND CITY HALL

City employes installed supports for the parking meters in North Mercer street and after they have been painted aluminum they will be "capped" and put in operation. It is probable that the city workers will soon install the meters in North Mill street north of East Washington street. About 500 meters will be installed.

It looks as though all members of council will take up the question of holidays for certain city employes soon. Many of the employes who have been with the city for years Wednesday morning desired the afternoon off so they could attend Old Timers reunion at Cascade Park. Mayor Charles E. McGrath said informally that he believes the question of designating holidays for employes is a problem for all council. Sometime ago Councilman Joseph Alexander presented a list of days when city employes could forsake their duties. The proposal was not acted upon finally. By stating in advance when employes will not work the council will be doing a justice to the public, because persons will not travel to city hall on such days and find no one there. The present council has been wary about issuing holidays to employes, it might be said and before a list of holidays is officially designated they will convene, consider the matter carefully then cast their vote yes or no.

Why FIRESTONE MAKES A SAFER TIRE AT A LOWER PRICE

PRICES AS LOW AS $6.40

IN THE Firestone Standard Tire, you get extra value in the form of extra safety. It costs more money to build a safer tire. But Firestone can build a first-quality tire made of top grade materials and sell it for less money, because Firestone controls rubber and cotton supplies at their sources, manufactures with greater efficiency and distributes at lower cost.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS — eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. By this process every fiber of every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber. This counteracts dangerous internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES — because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING— because the tread is scientifically designed.

YOU GET LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE because of the extra tough, long-wearing tread.

You need all of these features to make your car tire-safe on your week-end or vacation trip. Firestone gives them to you at lower cost. Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign today by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Standard Tires — today's top tire value.

Pirates Trip Chicago Cubs

Young Singles With Bases Full To Give Pirates Another Victory

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Because the Chicago Cubs stack up as one of the gamest teams that ever hobbled to war on crutches and still made a fight of it, the National league pennant race again is developing into one of those stretch battles that pull the customer to the back of the chair and keeps him there.

Nothing ever happens to the Cubs, except disaster. At one time or another this season virtually every member of the team has been on the hospital list. Sometimes nearly half of the team has been ailing one way or another.

In spite of it all the Cubs managed to take the lea', and the only amazing thing about the race now is that they still are in front by two games. Adding to the injury handicap, their pitching staff has folded up and the net result is a stretch of five straight defeats.

Giants Route Fette

Meanwhile, the Giants have won five straight and are back in striking distance of the league lead.

The Giants turned Hubbell aloose yesterday against the Boston Bees in what was supposed to be a pitching duel with Lou Fette. But the latter lasted less than an inning and Hubbell went on to his 17th victory by 9 to 1. A five-run attack in the first inning took care of Fette, who previously had won 14 games while losing only four.

The Pittsburgh Pirates nosed out the Cubs in the ninth inning, 7 to 6 when Floyd Young singled with the bags full. In the first half of that last frame the Cubs had taken the lead by 6 to 5, all of which concluded the day's activity in the National loop.

In the American, the Yankees took a hair-raiser from the Washington Senators, 7 to 6, to make it three in a row from the capital team.

DiMaggio Homers

Almada tied the score for Washington in the eighth when he hit a homer with two on, and DiMaggio won for the Yankees when he belted out his 35th circuit smash in the ninth, to keep almost even pace with Babe Ruth's record for a similar period in 1927, when the all-time record of 60 was set.

The Chicago White Sox took the upper hand in the second place battle with the Detroit Tigers by winning behind the four-hit pitching of Vernon Kennedy, 6 to 0.

The Cleveland Indians split with the St. Louis Browns in a doubleheader, the Indians taking the first, 5 to 2 and dropping the nightcap, 11 to 6.

The Philadelphia Athletics beat the Boston Red Sox, 4 to 2.

Then there is the waistband blouse which reflects the trend toward wide belts and girdles.

Schmeling And Louis Re-Match Is Talked About

Maxie Will Watch Farr And Louis Bout And Then Decide What To Do

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 19—Joe Jacobs, who does a job of foster-management for Schmeling whenever the latter finds this arrangement convenient, announced last night that he would call, in the above capacity, upon Promoter Mike Jacobs today in an effort to ascertain whether he would care to become custodian to the sum of $1,200,000. In case it turns out that he would, an attempt will be made to capture his strangely inattentive fancy in connection with a second meeting between Schmeling and Joe Louis, world's heavyweight champion—at a "take" of roughly a million and a quarter.

Louis Vs. Schmeling

At last reports by the way, Promoter Jacobs seemed most urgently pre-occupied with the Farr-Louis title fight, one week from tonight, at a probable "take" of $200,000.

Schmeling, who volubly arrived yesterday on the Bremen, will not deign to attend today. That was one part of step-manager Jacobs' announcement. Another was that Schmeling, no longer prepared to be imperious, will accept Louis either this year or next; a third that, when a show down finally comes between the champion and the man who knocked him blathering, Louis himself "will force the issue."

It seems that Louis confided as much to an inquiring reporter a few days ago, that he was "tah-red" of all the bizz-bazz about whether he would or wouldn't meet the German again.

"He's going through the same thing we did with Sharkey a few years ago," said Step-Manager Jacobs. "Finally, it was a relief to meet him. Louis feels the same way. He says that, if Schmeling can beat him again, he'd rather get it over with than listen to all the talk about it.

To Talk Business

"Schmeling will see Mike Jacobs only if the latter is ready to talk business. He's not going to sit on Mike's door step. We had a signed offer from Louis in June, quoting us at an even percentage for what he called his 'first fight' as champion. That's practically a legal obligation, but evidently they don't mean it any more."

Asked if, in the event no agreement was reached, Schmeling was thinking of a few reprisals, Step-Manager Jacobs was strangely evasive. One suggested reprisal, incidentally, was some picketing by the German societies here, which probably would lead to a very high, old time in some very low, old gutters.

May Get Together

"Just say for us," the man said, hastily, "that we expect to get together."

"In other words, you don't want to enrage Mike Jacobs."

"Not at this time," said Step-Manager Jacobs. And somehow I got the impression that, so far as he was concerned, any time might be away too soon.

Geology Tours Are Scheduled

Government Conducts Tours Throughout Pennsylvania For Those Interested

HARRISBURG.—Holding the belief that many of the citizens of Pennsylvania would welcome the opportunity to learn something about the principles of earth science and at least the rudiments of the geology of Pennsylvania, the Bureau of Topographic and Geologic Survey in the Department of Internal Affairs has inaugurated a scheme for Geological tours, Secretary of Internal Affairs Thomas A. Logue announced today.

The field trips are being arranged primarily for school teachers, particularly those holding science instructing positions in the teachers' colleges and high schools.

Trips have already been run out of Chambersburg, Harrisburg, Johnstown, Reading, Bryn Mawr and Stroudsburg. The latest, out of Pottsville, was conducted last month. Others are being planned, some for the coming Fall season. Persons interested and wishing further information are urged to communicate with the Bureau of Topographic and Geologic Survey, Department of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg.

AIR HOSTESSES TO BE TRAINED AS REPORTERS

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY—Air hostesses will become reporters through a new plan of Trans-continental & Western Air, Inc.

They will be trained in the rudiments of news gathering so they can interview prominent passengers, radioing their "stories" to recently established regional news bureaus for transmission to newspapers.

Clancy W. Dayhoff, former public relations manager at Los Angeles, heads the TWA news bureau, which will also disseminate news concerning technical improvements developed by the company and assist the press in covering national disaster occurring in territories adjacent to the TWA route.

The four regional news bureaus and their managers are: Los Angeles, Don Black; Chicago, William Westlake; New York, Harris Hull, and Kansas City, Clancy Dayhoff.

HE LOST HIS CASE!

Said the judge to the plaintiff in a compensation case, "Now show the court the effects of the accident."

The plaintiff got up and, with infinite pain, hobbled across the floor.

"Now," continued the judge, "show us how you used to move before the accident."

The plaintiff took a hop, skip and jump across the courtroom.

Orators flourish only at intervals. There must be rest periods for mere builders to clear away the wreckage.

Berlin To Mark 700th Birthday

August 14 To 22 Set Aside To Celebrate Anniversary Of German City

(International News Service)

BERLIN.—Berlin is to celebrate its seven hundredth birthday from August 14 to 22.

It is probable that Berlin existed even earlier than 1237 but that has been decided upon as the "foundation year" since the earliest extant record referring to Berlin dates back to that year. A comprehensive exhibition, "700 Years of Berlin" will be held in the capital city's Exhibition Grounds at Kaiserdamm, near the Radio Tower.

The peak of this festive season in August will be provided by an historical procession depicting first the historical development of the original nucleus of Berlin, then the history of nearby communities, formerly independent but later invorporated in Berlin, and finally the significance of the capital of the Third Reich.

A festival play with massed cast is to be presented in the Olympic Stadium, performances of words by modern and ancient composers belonging to Berlin will be given and altogether every side of the cultural life of the German capital will be represented.

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 19.—Ace G-men today were to be called in the case of Mrs. Anna Hahn, who is charged with poisoning two elderly Germans and suspected of poisoning nine others.

The federal bureau of investigation announced today that it had entered the case at the suggestion of District Attorney Starret of Colorado Springs, where George Obendoerfer, 67, Cincinnati cobbler, died suddenly on a trip on which he was accompanied by Mrs. Hahn.

Starret said the Lindbergh law might be invoked if evidence indicated that Obendoerfer was taken across a state line against his own wishes with intent to injure or rob him. He added: "I think we can show this was done."

Police said she had obtained approximately $75,000 from the elderly Germans she had "befriended" and who died mysteriously in recent years.

Children Escape In Truck Crash

Three-Score Children Escape Death When Truck Goes Off Road

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Aug. 19.—A narrow escape from possible serious injury and death was related today by three-score school children of nearby Point Marion following the crash of a truck on which they were riding to a Sunday school picnic.

The accident occurred late yesterday when the children, members of the Point Marion M. E. Sunday school, were enroute to Riverside Park, W. Va., for their annual outing.

The large vehicle suddenly skidded on soft shoulders of the road, went off the road, smashed down a large pole and sent the wires dangling over the vehicle. Only two were injured, however, sufficiently to require medical attention.

A near panic ensued at Point Marion when news of the accident reached the community as residents commandered all vehicles available and hastened to the scene.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—The Indiana department of public welfare soon will close a unique poor house in Ohio County.

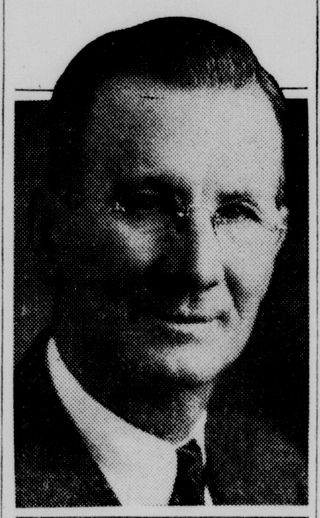
There is only one inmate, a man 79 years old and ill.

This lone occupant of a 12 room institution on a 104 acre tract of farm ground has been receiving the undivided attention of a superintendent and a matron since the death of a companion inmate Jan. 22, at the age of '93.

The institution is operated under the obsolete contract system, which provides that the county commissioners shall furnish the farm, buildings and seed while the superintendent provides the stocks and tools.

Contractor Seeks Council Place

L. Fred Vaughn A Candidate For The Democratic Nomination For City Council



L. FRED VAUGHN

In announcing my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for city council of New Castle, I do so after giving the utmost thought and consideration to the responsibilities and duties that must confront one holding a public office such as councilman.

My education has been along the lines of engineering and general contracting; as a general contractor, I have had a large measure of success, having built roads, paved streets and built bridges, also constructed consolidated schools over a great part of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio. As to my ability and integrity, ask any for whom I have done construction work. Such being the case, I believe I am fully competent to discharge the duties necessary as a member of city council.

I will endeavor to be fair in departmental relations. I will try to practice the precepts of justice to all alike.

I have never held, or run for any public office before.

New Castle is my home, having lived here practically all my life, am a large tax payer and have faith in New Castle. Therefore if I am nominated and elected, I will strive to make the city as a whole a better place in which to live.

I do not believe in discrimination against any part of the city.

I believe in an equitable form of property assessment.

I am not a candidate of any faction or clique, politically or otherwise. If nominated and elected I promise to devote my entire time in trying to better the conditions in the city of New Castle.

I am trying to contact every voter personally, and if I should fail to meet any I take this opportunity of asking for your support and influence, at the coming primary election Sept. 14.

Very sincerely yours,
L. FRED VAUGHN,
Second ward.

Old Shoe Man Long Dead May Become Saint

Sainthood In Offing For Italian Shoe Repair Man Who Died 152 Years Ago

(International News Service)

MONCALIERI, Italy — A small mountain village workman, known as the "Holy shoe-repairer", Gian Antonio Panighetti, who died 152 years ago, may some day become a saint.

Born in the tiny village of Varzo, in the Italian Alps, June 11, 1740, Panighetti soon revealed his faith in the Catholic church and after wandering from village to village, earning his way by repairing shoes, settled down in the town of Moncalieri.

Here he opened a shoe-repairing shop where he daily preached the doctrine of Christ to all those who came into his store. Soon his fame grew to the extent that cardinals and high prelates would make long voyages from all parts of Italy to speak to the holy man.

Predicted Time of Death

In 1785 following a brief illness, Panighetti died, but it is stated that the sorrow at his loss was tinged with surprise by the fact that he himself had predicted the day and hour of his demise.

Following his death the parish priest of Moncalieri began studies so as to gather the necessary elements to propose Panighetti for beatification.

A century and a half later, in 1935, the tomb of the "Holy shoe repairer" was opened after authorization had been given by the Vatican. In the presence of prelates his remains were exhumed and enveloped in silk cloth while a new casket adorned with a commemorative plaque was placed in the tomb, in sign of recognition of his faith and merits towards the Catholic church.

The beatification cause will probably be discussed this year and perhaps the first steps toward sanctification will be made.

AGE OF INNOCENCE

The proprietor reprimanded the office boy for coming in late.

"This is too much," he stormed. "You should have been here at 8."

"Why?" returned the office boy innocently. "Did something happen?"

Marriage Mill Now Doomed In Elkton, Maryland

Law Put Into Effect July 1 Stops Eloping Couples From Marrying Quickly

(International News Service)

ELKTON, Md., July 15.—The end of its long career as a "marriage mill" looms for Elkton, mecca of countless eloping couples from eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland.

They never had to wait in Elkton. The taxi drivers could spot them a mile away and marrying parsons fought each other for the business of tying the matrimonial knot for the young hopefuls.

But a new marriage law which went into effect on July 1 changed all that. It requires 48 hours notice before the ceremony can take place. With such a provision impatient lovers might just as well stay at home and patronize their local license bureaus.

The taxi drivers and their clerical partners have one chance left to stave off the impending doom. Under Maryland law, if 5,000 voters sign a petition any new law can be postponed one month before it goes into effect. That period of grace gives opportunity for obtaining 5,000 more signatures to another petition which would allow the voters to pass upon the law at the next general election. With their backs to the wall the drivers, parsons and their friends are working feverishly to get the required number of names.

Fate Similar To Others

If they fail, Elkton will have suffered the fate of the original Gretna Green, a village in Dumfriesshire, Scotland, just over the English border. It was there that fugitive lovers were united by the clergyman in a very speedy manner; and the fee, very flexible in amount, was demanded when the service was about three quarters performed, so as to assure payment before the possible arrival of irate parents.

The practice was discontinued by an act of Parliament in 1858, which declared that no irregular marriage in Scotland should thereafter be valid unless one of the parties had resided there for 21 days.

The tightening of Maryland's marriage laws has been due in part to violations of the age limit by the parsons where young elopers were concerned. Many of these 'teen age marriages have gone on the rocks within a short time after the elopement and divorce court judges have been outspoken in their criticism of the Maryland laws as a consequence.

Full Military Funeral For Army Post Dog

(International News Service)

CARLISLE, Pa.—Five guns boomed, flags fluttered at half mast.

Spare Rib, mascot dog of the Carlisle Army Post, killed by a railroad train, was tendered his late rites with a full military funeral.

A small coffin, draped with an American flag, was lowered into a grave along Letory Creek. Pallbearers were J. W. Simms, Theodore Drybread, Paul Divert and Paul Ruhl.

Officers at the Carlisle barracks said a suitable tombstone had been ordered for the pet's grave.

HOT, INDEED!

A man in Chicago was grumbling about the heat. Said another, who had just returned from a trip through the south: "Hot? Boy, you don't know what hot is. One day in Mississippi I saw a dog chasing a cat and they were both walking."
